Topic in focus

How do we protect you and ourselves against deliberately incorrect information, fraud or deception?

We assume that everyone provides us with full and correct details. When we suspect incorrect details have been deliberately provided or fraud or deception has taken place, we carry out an investigation. We do this in accordance with the guidelines provided by the Dutch Association of Insurers. Because we work with Delta Lloyd, we also follow their guidelines. More information on this matter can be found at deltalloyd.nl/integriteit. At this website you can also find the Incident Protocol for the Financial Institutions Warning System (PIFI). This states the rules we adhere to, in confirmed cases recorded in the register.

After the investigation has been carried out, we take a decision. For example, we may decide to immediately terminate the insurance or not to pay out on the insurance. We may also decide to terminate any other insurance policies with us. We may also decide to demand repayment of payments that have been made and recover the costs of the investigation. We may also report incidents to the police. All of these measures mean that you do not have to pay for other people making fraudulent claims on their insurance.
